CONTAINER GROWN

Camellias...

William E. Wylam.

P. O. Box 156
Station C
Pasadena, California

Fall 1949.

Dear Friends:

The Camellias are in bloom and I would like to visit you with the list of fine Container Grown Camellias I have selected for you.

Last Season I had the privilege of listing the beautiful 1948 Introduction Arlene Lee Shepp. This Spring, at the 1949 Pacific Camellia Show, visiting experts from the Southeastern States, judged this variety the Best West Coast Introduction.

This Season I have the privilege of listing two introductions of another grower. Both Katherine Nuccio and Primavera are, I believe, well worth a place in any top notch collection and I am proud to list them.

F. G. #2 is a showy introduction of the famous Rancho del Descanso. Other fine varieties recently introduced by this firm include Berenice Boddy, Jenny Jones, Mary Charlotte, Mrs. Howard Asper, and Pride of Descanso.

While I am featuring West Coast Introductions, and there are some fine ones, I am listing a number of the newer Southern varieties. I also selected a group of the "Old Reliables," as many of these have never been equalled, let alone surpassed.

To my Customers in the States of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Tennessee, I wish to especially recommend my list of plants from 2½ and 3 inch pots.

To my Customers in the other States, I offer the same high quality, gallon size Container Grown Camellias I have selected in past years. These may be shipped at any time.

I will continue to give the same careful personal attention to selecting and packing all orders, whether shipped bare root or in the container in which they have grown.

Thanking those who have entrusted me with their orders, and assuring you of my desire to further serve you, to the best of my ability, and your entire satisfaction, I am

Very truly yours,

William E. Wyman

Especially recommended to Customers in the States of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and Tennessee, where the Flower Blight Quarantine is in effect.

I have selected these young own root plants because I am of the opinion (formed by my experience in both importing and exporting bare root Camellias) that small plants, such as these, stand the shock of bare root shipment better than larger plants. I am also of the opinion that shipments of bare root Camellias are best made during the months of December, January, February and early March.

Prices in this special list include packing and delivery to your door. Packing will conform to state regulations.

All quotations are made subject to prior sale. As these plants are in limited supply, it might be well to indicate any second choices. Substitution of varieties will not be made unless requested.

California Customers please include 3% Sales Tax.
